BOSTON PRODUCE MARKET.

[From Wednesday's Boston Journal.]

There is no material change in the butter market from last week. Trade continues light, and prices are about the same, though it is difficult to give a reliable range of quotations on the bulk of the receipts. As usual at this time of year, only a small proportion of the make can be called strictly extra, and after passing this kind the market is in buyers' favor. Receipts, though not yet very large, are running ahead of last year, and under the operation of the light demand for a week or two past, some of the fresh supplies have accumulated.

Receivers differed somewhat on prices yesterday. All agreed that the demand was light, and that it was hard to move the bulk of the receipts at 19 to 20 cents. But some were short on strictly fancy quality, with new milk flavor, and this they said they could sell if they had it at 20 to 21 cents. A little of this kind is coming from New Hampshire, and taken by regular customers, but it would be misleading to quote it as a basis for most of the invoices arriving.

Most of the receipts of Western creamery call 20 cents an outside price for the best in assorted sizes, and 19 to 19 1/2 cents for ash tubs. "I would like to see a buyer at 19 cents, and I offered a real good lot yesterday at 18 1/2 cents, without effecting a sale," said a sharp salesman. "In fact, it is no use talking about prices when nobody wants to buy."

Grades under choice take a wide range, say from 16 to 18 cents, and move slowly at that. The leading exporter here said he was of fered lots all the way from 13 to 16 cents, such as he could not get a short time ago at 2 to 3 cents higher.

The cheese situation continues firm, but without much activity. Buyers are still taking small lots as wanted for current requirements with sales of best Northern at 11 to 11 1/2 cents. Holders are not forcing sales, because they look for better prices when the season increases. This is usually a dull month in cheese trade, but there are about three months before any good new cheese can be obtained, and it is expected that before that time the stock of old will be very low, if not all closed out.

There was a good demand for fresh eggs yesterday, and receipts were quickly disposed of. Early in the day the principal sales were at 18 cents at marks, and 19 cents less off. In the afternoon 18 1/2 cents was readily obtained at marks, and some sold at 19 cents.

Hay is steady at $13 1/4 for best and $12 1/2 per ton for outside price for the best in assorted sizes, and 19 to 19 1/2 cents for ash tubs. Rye straw is quoted at $25 50 and oat straw at $6 50 per ton.

Lieutenant Commander Harris, who navigated the Maria Teresa when she was abandoned, has been honorably discharged. He had volunteered only for the war.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to test its wonderful merits, mention the Middlebury Register and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.
